Email: teencourt2@ciswayne.org

Description/Notes: Teen Court is a diversion program for first time juvenile offenders, ages 12-18. This program is designed to inform offenders about the court system, provide an alternative to traditional court, and allow the defendant to explain their involvement in the offense. Misdemeanor offenses are handled by a jury of peers and teen offenders are assigned a constructive sentence that must be completed. Student volunteers serve prosecuting and defense attorney, bailiff, jury, and clerk, as well as members of the jury. Adult volunteers serve as judges, attorney monitors, and exit interviewers. Local judges, attorneys, and law enforcement serve as the judges and Wayne County Deputies also assist.

Program Fees: None

Intake/Application Process: Once a juvenile offender has been referred to the Teen Court Program, an intake interview will be scheduled with the Teen Court Coordinator.

Reach Out and Read, Duplin County Partnership for Children

Same as Agency address

(910) 296-2000 Main

(910) 296-1497 Fax

Description/Notes: This activity partners with medical care practices to provide pre-literacy opportunities for children and their parents. Participating medical care providers voluntarily incorporate Reach Out and Read (ROR), an evidence-based model, into young children's regular pediatric checkups or well-child visits. During each of the routine visits, parents receive a new, culturally and developmentally appropriate book to take home and read to their children. The medical provider discusses the importance of reading, model reading a book aloud to the child, and encourages parent-child interactions as part of pre-literacy and language development. The program begins at the child's 6-month checkup and continues through age 5. Additionally, the children's "medical home" displays a "literacy-rich" waiting room area that reinforces the doctor's "prescription to read".

Description/Notes: NC Pre-K is a state-funded, community-based pre-kindergarten program. NC Pre-K is designed to provide at-risk 4-year-old children, who may not otherwise be served, with a valuable educational experience. This program provides young children with access to a specific curriculum and preschool experience to enhance their school readiness. The NC Pre-K Program standards are built on the premise that in order to be successful academically in school, children need to be prepared in all five of the major domains of development outlined by the National Education Goals Panel. Each of these domains is critical to children's well being, in particular for their success in reading and math as they come to school. The five domains are: -Health and physical development -Social and emotional development -Language development and communication -Cognition and general knowledge -Approaches toward learning NC Pre-K children will be required to have a health assessment, including immunizations, dental, hearing and vision, upon enrollment. A developmental assessment will also be provided to identify special needs and monitor growth in the program. Children also receive family support, and other community resources as needed.

This directory was created by United Way of North Carolina and NC 2-1-1 to serve the Regional Committees of the North Carolina Coalition to End Homelessness. Services were included in this directory because they specifically serve the homeless population. Other services beyond the scope of this directory are always available on nc211.org or by calling 2-1-1; Printed October, 2015
